Internal Report #40381

Hi, thanks for the quick report. This issue we were aware of already, and are actively working on it. We just decided it wasn't major enough to hold up our release any longer. For now, the workaround I found is just to click 2 extra times and you'll be where you are aiming for. We'll be sure to get this fixed up and into the first available toolset update (probably the next one?). Thanks again for taking the time to let us know.
